

Jen loves colored leather—like the blue tufted ottoman she wanted to bring home from Bedford Springs. “It’s as close as I can come to carrying around an ottoman!” she exclaims about her colorful collection of leather purses.

“I would set this next to something completely different, like a chrome table, but you could set it wherever you want... a bedroom, bathroom, living room,” Mulledy says about this vintage personal service table she picked up at the Annullville Antique Mall.

Jen likes to accessorize every space she touches with one piece of clear Lucite. “They’re like an accent diamond,” she says. And she leaves containers like these empty, which allows for light to pass through and reflect in a minimalistic, blingin’ way.

Just back from a trip to Bedford Springs Resort in Maryland and the Springs Eternal Spa, Jen says, “To me, good design will do the same thing as music or a massage, whether or not you realize you’re being affected by a space.” Everyone has a favorite place that can be incorporated into the home, she adds, and she works at understanding how these places work to recreate that feeling.

Mixing neutrals and textures really “multiplies the effect,” Mulledy says; “You don’t just see, but experience.”
